

Here comes the Sun and there goes your cash!

Hoorah It's the Summer Holidays!!
 Endless sun-kissed days of fun and sun and spending time with your loved ones (unless you're a working parent of course and then it's mostly an endless round of trying to cover your working hours and secure babysitting, whilst working out how to pay for everything your little angels will want to do!!). Don't forget, before you head off for the daily round of theme parks, there are plenty of low-cost activities locally, and best of all that right on our doorstep and free of charge completely Reigate Priory Park boasts an amazing children's playground, and has some of the most beautiful scenery in Surrey. If you don't have children, the days should seem longer, and it should give you a chance to do more with your evenings. If you never venture past the local pub after you get home from work, why not broaden your horizons just once this summer, and do something different.

It doesn't have to cost a fortune. The Hawth has 2 servings of Open Air Theatre, and Gatton Park has an amazing array of affordable, interesting summer activities for the whole family, including discovering the delights of bats, butterflies and moths!! Denbies are offering free children's places on some of their tours, and there are plenty of rockin' local gigs in our pubs. The Red Cross under new management has planned a choc full schedule of live music, joining the ranks of the Nutley Halls, the Station Hotel, the Red Lion and the Priory Bar as active supporters of live local music, and regular venues to an array of local talent, and the Black Horse has started holding a monthly Jazz night, so whatever your thing is, make sure you catch some of it this summer.
